The Wife's Because.

It is not because your heart is mine-mine only-It is not because you chose me, weak and lonely,

For your own : Not because the earth is fairer, and the skies Spread above you are more radiant for the shining of your eyes

That I love you! It is not because the world's perplexed meaning Grows more clear, And the parapets of heaven, with angels leaning,

Seem more near : And nature sings of praise with all her voices Since you spoke, lince my silent heart that now rejoices, Love awoke '

Nay, not even because your hand holds heart and life At your will, oothing, hushing all its discord, making strife Calm and still ;

Teaching Trust to fold her wings, nor ever roam From her nest ; Teaching Love that her securest, safest home Must be rest.

But because this human love, though true and sweet-Voors and mine-Has been sent by Love more tender, more complete More divine, That it leads our hearts to rest at last in heaven, Far above you,

Do I take thee as a gift that God has given; And I love you!

Variety.

Laziness is a good deal like money, the more a in has of it, the more he wants. Show may be easily purchased, but happines s home-made article.

The marriage of Princess Louisa and the Mar-An Irishman, eating his first green corn, handed the cob to the waiter, and asked: "Will ye plaze put some banes on me shtick." American women are celebrated all over the orld for their small and pretty shaped hands and feet. Law is like a sieve, you may see through it, out you must be considerably reduced before you can get through it.

ich other. If the young would remember that hey may be old, and the old remember that they have been young, the world would be happier. The town authorities of Canton, Illinois, keep list of habitual drunkards, a copy of which is arnished every saloon keeper in the place, and hey are not allowed to sell liquor to any person amed in the list.

The largest individual donation which history records as having been made by a private indi-vidual has just been made by Oppenheim, the banker of Cologne, who has sent to King William, a a war gift, $750,000.

A Congregational minister, of Boston, was caught one day lately swearing terribly at a cow that had kicked over a pail of milk. On being eprimanded for his profanity, he said he only wore on such occasions, and thought he should M. C. CHALLAMEL have to give up being a Christian, or else trade

A captain, one of the old school, being at a ball, had been accepted by a beautiful partner, a ady of rank, who in the most delicate manner possible hinted to him the propriety of putting on a pair of gloves. "Oh!" was the elegant reply, " never mind me, ma'am. I shall wash hands when I've done dancing.'

A wager was laid on the Yankee peculiarity to inswer one question by asking another. To decide the bet a Down-Easter was interrogated : "1 want you," said the better, " to give me a straightforward answer to a plain question." "I kin du it, mister," said the Yankee. "Then why is it New Englanders always answer a quesson by asking one in return?" " Du they?" was Jonathan's reply.

Thirty-two young ladies of Tipton, Ind., recently met in council, and passed the following resolution: "That we will not accompany any foung man to church or places of amusemen who uses tobacco in any manner, and that we will discard all young men who play billiards, sehre or poker; and that young men who indulge in profane language need not apply; and that we will not, by hook, look or crook, notice any young man who indulges in lager beer or whisky; and that we will not harbor young men known to keep late hours."

The German astronomers and physicists have, fter prolonged observation, arrived at the conlusion that the moon is a dead planet—that is, that it has "cooled off," and is now without hear, water or atmosphere, and consequently without life of any kind. The earth is undergong the same process, according to these learned philosophers, and will eventually be without life light. But we who now live may take no fears to heart on that account, as the earth can cool off, say the geologists, only at the rate of

It is not often that the secular press is indorsed from the pulpit. But Rev. De Witt Talmadge, in a recent address, used the following remarkable language: "I now declare that I consider the newspapers to be the grand agency by which the gospel is preached, ignorance is cast out, oppression dethroned, crime extirpated, the world raised, Heaven rejoiced, and God glorified. In the clanking of the printing press, as the sheets fly out, I hear the voice of the Lord Almighty proclaiming to the nations of the earth, 'Lazarus come forth!' and to the retiring surges of darkness, 'Let there

In 1835 two English missionaries landed on the Fiji Islands, and the islands have already been ight into a state of natural Christianity. This phrase is one of great significance when applied to Fiji Islanders, who, half a century ago, were cannibals, and are now so far lifted out of their barbarous condition that their islands make a pleasant home for civilized people. The native population, 100,000 in number—occupy these 200 islands, living in towns of about 500 souls each, the yillages being governed by a Chief, who is in turn subject to a King, of which each island has one. Viti Leon, the largest island, is 350 miles in circumference, and Vauna Leon, the next in importance, has a circumference of 200 miles. The whites in the Fiji Islands number 2,000. The climate is described as delightful; the soil is a dark, rich loam; and the products are cotton and tropical fruits.
